Re: "Meeting the Energy Challenge".

Dear Mr. Bravo:

I just read the pamphlet, "Meeting the Energy Challenge", and your comments in the same document, "Thinking Ahead".

I have been researching the Oil Crises for many years and perhaps the main culprit behind Global Warming. During the course of my investigation, I discovered, [at the current rate, (2009), of Uranium and Oil usage], BOTH will, (to all intents & purposes), be depleted, in less than 150 years!

You might be interested to read my view as to these problems as well as my suggested solution to them, and the future of perpetual electricity generation, in the attached document!

I know this document is un-solicited, but would like to think, that my assessment has some validity! See the following links:
